Chicago Grain and Produce.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.-The condition of things today on Change showed more clearly than eyer the absence of outside business and the overshadowing influence of Hutchinson. He had brokers in the wheat and corn pits and established prices at which he would either buy or sell all the crowd desired. The week closed with prices, on the whole, lower and prices marked duller than several days ago. Compared with last Saturday, the price of May wheat was 116c lower; corn 116c and oats 136c lower. There was plenty of gossiping, but little trading in wheat today. May opened be higher at Sic moved up to 81%c during the first hour, and kept between that figure and 80% during the balance of the session, closing finally at S136c. The firmness was due to scalpers, who were evening up their trades for the week. A true account of the operations in corn today, consisted in saying that Hutchinson was ready to buy any amount at 51%c and ready to sell any amount at 511/a51%c. These figures, therefore, formed the range of prices for the session. There was no one who cared to venture outside the pegs and the business was a narrow limit scalp in which only a few took part. May opened at 51%c and sold, as stated, between that figure and 51%c, and closed at 51%c.

The interest in oats was better than in corn, as they were not pegged. May sold at 31% a31% c. and closed at 31% c.

Speculation in provisions was on a duced scale and almost entirely local, there being too little in the daily variations to induce outsiders to send in fresh orders to either buy or sell. Arrivals of hogs were up to expectations, and prices were maintained. The packing in Chicago since November 1 is 1,552,000 hogs, a decrease of 31,000 hogs from the same date last year.

Lard ranged at 57 Sport Ct. and a way Freight. Lard ranged at $7.8007.85 and closed at $7.80, a decline of 2½c from yesterday- No. 1 Mail and Express. Way Freight. Pork remained steady at $14.32\4@14.40 May closing at $14.35. Short ribs were slow at $7.60@7.67% add closed at $7.60, a decline of 5c. A better demand existed for other meats and sales showed a fair in-
